Nancylee M. Brady ) Case No.: 13CV432 Plaintiff, ) vs. )
Israel and Jennifer McKinney ) COMPLAINT Defendant )
)
)

Plaintiff Nancylee Brady brings forth the following causes of action and alleges the following:

1. Plaintiff is an individual and resident of Galesville, WI
2. Defendants, at the time, were residents in Mound, MN (1616 Beachwood Rd)
3. On or about April 15, 2008 Defendant (Israel) contacted plaintiff requesting a loan of $50,000.
4. On or about April 15, 2008 Plaintiff agreed to loan the defendants $50,000 with the verbal promise that it would be paid back over the next twelve months with an additional $5000 interest.
5. Defendants have made only small payments over the last five and one half years with the first payment being February 1st, 2010 for $500. The total payments received to date is $7699.50
6. Plaintiff loaned almost all the money she had in her Schwaab account from her husband and son's death and has lost the interest from that money that she lived off of.

Plaintiff brings forth the following counts and allegations supporting her cause of action:

COUNT 1 - NEGLIGENCE

Defendants have failed to repay the money loaned in a timely manner.

DAMAGES

Plaintiff has suffered emotionally and physically from the stress of financial ruin as a result of not being paid back. She is only able to work twelve hours per week due to her health. Meanwhile the defendants seem to be living a life of luxury; traveling to Dubai, Bora Bora, Las Vegas, and Tennessee just in the last 12 months. Defendants earn in excess of $20,000 per month.

Plaintiff has at times had to miss going to church for lack of gas money. Her normal standard of living has been considerably altered since the loan has been defaulted on.

Plaintiff has learned from her financial advisor (Jeff Lokken) that she would have earned $13,383.04 from her $50,000 over the course of the last five and one half years.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff seeks compensatory damages in the amount of $66,683.54

Original loan amount	$50,000
Interest promised	$ 5,000
Interest lost	$13,383.04
Attorney fee and court cost	$6000
Less amount paid back	(7,699.50)
Total	$66,683.54

Dear Nancylee,

To answer your question as to what the $50,000.00 withdrawal from your account on April 15th, 2008 would be worth today, I have determined the following:

1. Average annual return for all clients in the same risk category is 4.32%
2. 5.5 per year at 4.32% is $63,383.04.

I hope you find this helpful.

Sincerely,

Nancy Lee Brady provided Jennifer McKinney and I a loan. The amount was $50,000.00, the date was 2008. At the time of the loan the $ was used as a cash injection in my exterior replacement company and to pay overdue and current family bills. We were to repay Nancy Lee within 12 months plus $5,000.00 for lending the $50,000.00 to us. The exterior replacement company became a skeleton of what it was previous to the fall of 2008. Contributing factors of marriage separation, Jennifer's refusal to support the family business, and financial stresses lead to us being unable to repay Nancy Lee in the 12 month time frame.

Jennifer began writing on a popular mommy blog and Professional Photography to support our family. She has, at times, made payments to Nancy Lee. Since the fall of 2008 Jennifer has been the primary income earner. She currently supports the family in a network marketing company called Xyngolar. She has agreed to pay $250/week to Nancy Lee. However she is inconsistent in doing so. Nancy Lee has been more than patient with us. With Jennifer's $10k +/- month income and many weeks no $ from us she doesn't know how to secure the $ we owe her.
